EDITOR'S COMMENTS

Special thanks go to Bob Majni for providing several items to fill in this issue. Bob also sent several items that we are still trying to figure out how to use - they are just too large!

Thanks also to Douglas McDonald for his submissions and corrections.

You know, corrections are very important. Once an item appears in a specialized book or other publication, it seems to be etched in stone that it is correct. This is very unfortunate if the listing is in error. Making corrections known helps to straighten things out. It seems the corrections don't get the attention they should.

As I have said many times in our other newsletter, Alaskan Token Collector & Polar Numismatist, readers are the backbone to a publication like this. Without active participation of the readers, these newsletters get very stale. Only by providing information in the form of articles (original, previously published, or found in other publications), new finds, and, for lack of a better word, trivia, can publications like this stay fresh.

If you are a subscriber, I would like to encourage you to "mine" your collection for data that would be of interest to others and submit it for publication. We can put it into a form that will fit the newsletter.

As I type this, summer has arrived early. It is not quite mid-May, and we are already in the mid-70s! For those that have been in our store, you know that when summer comes, our shop is like an oven.

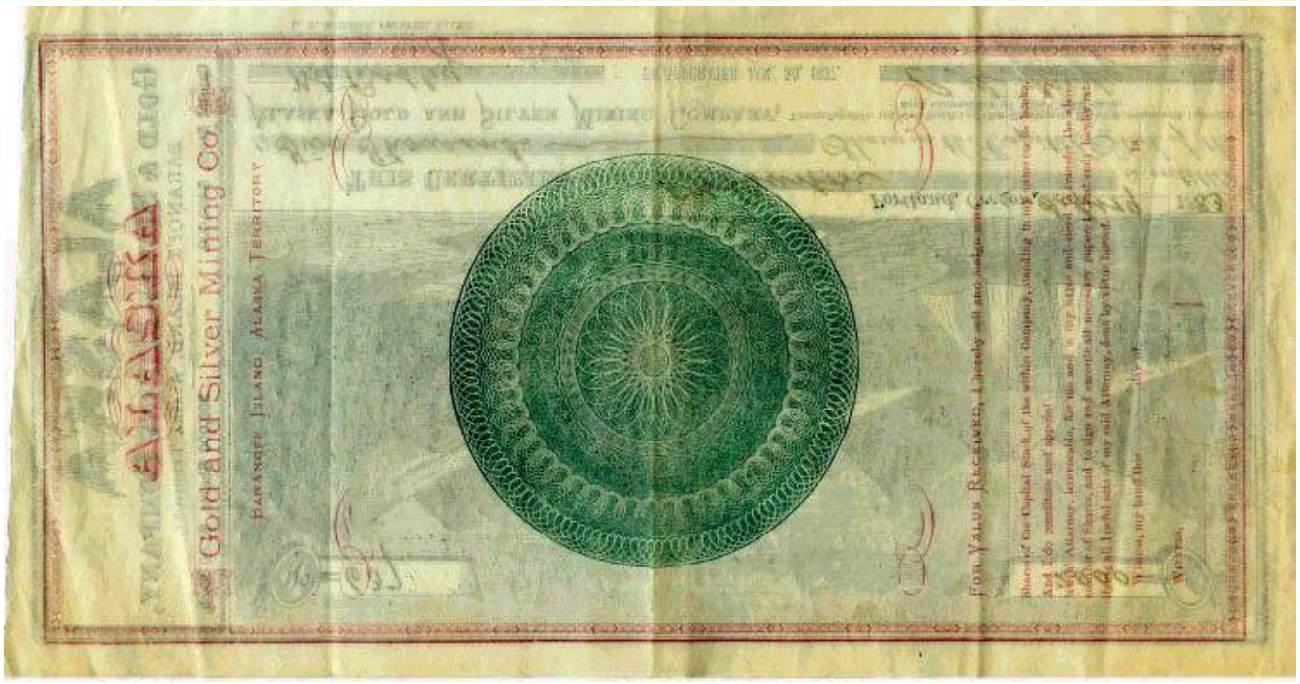
Is this the earliest Alaska stock??



ALASKA IRON COMPANY

Sold on eBay for $437.00, and described:

"RARE Alaska Iron Company Stock Certificate signed and dated, March 1869. Has original United State postal stamp and blindstamp. It has a few creases, otherwise in good condition."

On either side of the vignette it states "Bristol" - "Bucks Co., PA".

Needless to say, I have my doubts on this one being Alaskan. Can anyone provide any information?
